STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

In India, with a male dominant society, the women constitute the most exploited of the exploited and the weakest of the weaker sections of the society. In the patriarchal set up as it is in India, women have little, rather negligible, property rights. They have no status of their own. In their childhood they are dependent on their parents or guardians whereas in their married life they depend on the sweet will, nay whims and fancies, of their husbands and in their widowhood they are just destitutes.

Even after forty-nine years of independence, their status is, practically, no better particularly amongst the minorities, the tribals and rural masses.

The Bill, therefore, seeks to codify, confer and confirm specific property rights on women in various stages of their life i.e. in their childhood, unmarried and married life and in the event of desertion, destitution or divorce, keeping with the spirit of right to equality before the law as is enshrined in our Constitution.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Majority of the Universities of the country only disseminate knowledge and they do not promote creativity, morality, teacher-pupil relationship and education in ancient and modern sciences amongst the students.

The Bill proposes to establish Maharishi Valmiki University, which will be a Central University, with a view not only to disseminating knowledge but also promoting creativity amongst the students and teach them the use and application of knowledge for solving problems of the society and in particular of the Safai Karamcharis.

It has been seen that proper attention has not been paid to the educational requirements of Safai Karamcharis who constitute a large chunk of our population and who mostly belong to lower strata of the society. Therefore, it is proposed to reserve fifty per cent. of seats for Safai Karamcharis in all educational institutions established by the proposed University.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objectives.

MANGAL RAM PREMI

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 3 of the Bill provides for the establishment of a Central University to be known as Maharishi Valmiki National University. The Bill, therefore, if enacted will involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India in respect of setting up of the University, study centres, etc. and other administrative expenditure. It is estimated that an annual recurring expenditure of rupees one hundred crore is likely to be involved from the Consolidated Fund of India.

A non-recurring expenditure of about rupees ten crore is also likely to be involved.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 24 of the Bill provides that the first Statutes are those set out in the Second Schedule to the Bill. It also empowers the Board of Management to make a new or additional Statutes or amend or repeal the Statutes of the University. Clause 25 empowers the Vice-Chancellor of the University to make the first Ordinances of the University with the previous approval of the Visitor and provides that the Ordinances so made may be amended, at any time by the Board of Management in the manner prescribed by the Statutes. Clause 26 of the Bill enables the authorities of the University to make Regulations, consistent with the Act, the Statutes and the Ordinances for the conduct of their own business and that of the Committees appointed by them.

The matters, for which Statutes, Ordinances or Regulations may be made pertain to matters of procedure or detail and it is hardly possible to provide for them in the Bill.

The delegation of legislative powers is, therefore, of a normal character.

BILL No. 5 OF 1997

A Bill to amend the National Commission for Safai Karamcharis Act, 1993.

Be it enacted by Parliament in the Forty-eighth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the National Commission for Safai Karamcharis (Amendment) Act, 1997. Short title.

2. In section 1 of the National Commission for Safai Karamcharis Act, 1993 (hereinafter referred to as the principle Act), sub-section (4) shall be omitted. Amendment of section 1.

3. In section 4 of the principle Act, in sub-section (1), the words "or up to the 31st day of March, 1997, whichever is earlier" shall be omitted. Amendment of section 4.

4. In section 8 of the principle Act, for sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:— Amendment of section 8.

"(2) The Commission shall, while performing any of the functions under sub-section (1), have all the powers of a civil court trying a suit and, in particular, in respect of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) summoning and enforcing the attendance of any person from any part of India and examining him on oath;
- (b) requiring the discovery and production of any document;
- (c) receiving evidence on affidavits;
- (d) requisitioning any public record or copy thereof from any court or office;
- (e) issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses and documents; and
- (f) any other matter which may be prescribed.”.

Amendment of section 15.

5. In section 15 of the principle Act, in sub-section (2), in clause (a), for the words "and the other terms and conditions of service of," the words "term of office and the other terms and conditions of service," shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Central Government has formulated special schemes and taken many steps for the social, economic and educational upliftment of Safai Karamcharis. A separate National Commission for Safai Karamcharis was constituted in 1993 to monitor these schemes and to suggest other measures for the promotion of interests of Safai Karamcharis. The Commission has been empowered to solicit information from Central and State Governments and local bodies in respect of any matter regarding Safai Karamcharis. It has been observed that information is not made available to the Commission and in many cases the Safai Karamchari who has made a complaint on the basis of which the Commission has solicited information is removed from his job.

Safai Karamcharis are made to work on daily and part-time basis and they do not get the wages in full or in time. No proper safety measures are available for Safai Karamcharis at the work sites. As Commission does not have enough power to take up any matter affecting Safai Karamcharis with the concerned authorities, Safai Karamcharis have been left with no other option except to suffer in silence.

The National Commission for Safai Karamcharis was constituted for a period of three years only. As it is not a permanent body and a period of three years is not sufficient enough for upliftment of Safai Karamcharis, it is proposed to make the Commission a permanent body.

It is also proposed to give more powers to the Commission so that it can discharge its functions efficiently in the interests and for the welfare of Safai Karamcharis.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objectives.

NEW DELHI;

MANGAL RAM PREMI.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 2 of the Bill provides for the constitution of the National Commission for Safai Karamcharis on a permanent basis instead of for three years as at present. It is estimated that an annual recurring expenditure of about rupees ten crore is likely to be involved from the Consolidated Fund of India.

A non-recurring expenditure of about rupees two crore is also likely to be involved.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Several outmoded and ancient traditions beliefs are prevalent in our country. The people, instead of doing their own work, depend on Safai Karamcharis for getting the cleaning work done. These Safai Karamcharis have not been provided with minimum wages and social and economic security till today. The wages of Safai Karamcharis are fixed on many basis like the left over meals in a village family, the number of families in a locality, the number of persons in banks, Post Offices, schools and other offices and the income of the local bodies who are generally running in loss. Since most of the Gram Panchayats, Town Area Committees, Municipal Committees, Corporations, etc. are not able to earn profits, the Safai Karamcharis are not able to get even the minimum wages. Consequently, Safai Karamcharis are facing starvation.

The Safai Karamcharis always live in the danger of inhaling poisonous gases while clearing blocked sewer lines and carrying poisonous waste matter. They earn their livelihood from cleaning work, but they rarely get their meagre wages in time. As a result, they are forced to beg for food in the village.

Life Insurance Corporation and other insurance companies insure only those Safai Karamcharis who are working in Government or Semi-Government organisations and can afford higher premium. But majority of Safai Karamcharis are working in villages in unorganised sectors on daily wages part time basis and have no regular income.

In the circumstances, there is an urgent need to frame a comprehensive and compulsory insurance scheme for Safai Karamcharis who, are living in deplorable conditions, selling their labour at very cheap rates, and who are responsible for cleanliness and, thus, prevention of epidemics. Such an insurance scheme will go a long way in affording them social and economic protection.

Hence this Bill.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 3 of the Bill provides that the Central Government shall, in consultation with the State Governments, frame a scheme to be known as the Safai Karamcharis Insurance Scheme. Clause 4 provides that the Central Government shall administer the scheme. Clause 5 provides for establishment of Safai Karamcharis Insurance Fund by the Central Government to which the Central Government shall contribute rupees four hundred crore to form initial capital of the fund and shall also make grants to the fund. Clause 6 provides for the constitution of Advisory Committees in every district by the appropriate Government. As far as constitution of these Committees in the States is concerned, the expenditure shall be met out of the Consolidated Fund of respective States. However, in the case of constitution of Advisory Committees in the Union Territories, the expenditure shall be borne out of the Consolidated Fund of India. The Bill, therefore, if enacted, would involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India. It is likely to involve a recurring expenditure of about rupees four hundred crore per annum.

A non-recurring expenditure of about rupees one hundred crore is also likely to be involved.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 8 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make rules for carrying out the purposes of the Bill. The rules will relate to matters of detail only. The delegation of legislative power is, therefore, of a normal character.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Bill seeks not only to codify the present policy of reservations available to the Scheduled Castes, the Scheduled Tribes and the other Backward Classes but also to extend reservation in posts and services and in higher educational institutions to persons belonging to the backward minorities. The prevalent condition and the continuous declining trend in the position of the minorities is appalling. The facts and the figures presented by the report of the High-Power Panel on Minorities Constituted by Government of India irresistibly demand reservation for minorities in posts and services and in admissions in higher educational institutions. Only then can the imperatives of social justice be met to usher in an equitable society.

Hence this Bill.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 7 of the Bill provides for the establishment of the office of a Special Officer for Reservations. The Bill, therefore, if enacted, will involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India. It is likely to involve a recurring expenditure of twenty-five lakh per annum.

It is also likely to involve a non-recurring expenditure of about rupees ten lakh.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 8 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make rules for carrying out the purposes of the Bill. Since the rules will relate to matters of detail only, the delegation of legislative power is of a normal character.

BILL No. 7 OF 1997

A Bill further to amend the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order, 1950.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Forty-eighth year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order (Amendment) Act, 1997.

Short title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

2. In the Schedule to the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order, 1950, in Part III.—
C. O.22 Bihar, for entry 22, the following entry shall be substituted, namely :—

Amendment of the Schedule.

"22. Lohara, Lohra, Lohar".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

In the Schedule to the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order, 1950, in Part III relating to the State of Bihar, Lohara and Lohra are shown as Scheduled Tribes. There was, however, a confusion whether "Lohar" is entitled to be recognised as a Scheduled Tribes under the said order. The Supreme Court in the case of Shambhu Nath Vs State of Bihar (VA No. 4681/1990) held that Lohar community is a Scheduled Tribe.

In the Anthropological Survey of India, National Series, Volume III published by the Oxford University Press it is stated that Lohara/Lohra has been derived from the word Loha, meaning iron, as they were traditionally blacksmiths. Lohra is a synonym for Lohar. Even in the Hindu version of the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order, 1950, in the list relating to the State of Bihar, the expression is written as "Lohar" as against "Lohara" in the English version.

With a view to clear the existing ambiguity and to remove confusion, it is imperative that the word "Lohar" be added alongwith the words "Lohara" and Lohra" in the list of Scheduled Tribes relating to the State of Bihar.

Hence this Bill.

BILL No. 6 of 1997*A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.*

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Forty-eighth year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 1997. Short title.

2. In article 239A of the Constitution, in clause (1), for the words "Union territory of Pondicherry", the words "Union territories of Pondicherry and Chandigarh" shall be substituted. Amendment of article 239A.

3. In article 240 of the Constitution, in clause (1),—

(i) after entry (e), the following entry shall be added, namely:—

"(f) Chandigarh;";

(ii) in both the provisos, after the words "Union territory of Pondicherry", the words "or Chandigarh" shall be inserted. Amendment of article 240.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

At present, the Union territory of Chandigarh is being administered by the Administrator with the support of Advisor to the Administrator and other officers. The basic democratic requirement of participation of elected representatives is totally missing in the administration. The Administrator and other officers are free to take decisions without involving the elected representatives in the decision making process. Even the Member of Parliament representing the Union territory is not consulted on various policy decisions affecting public at large. The residents of Chandigarh are demanding for quite a long time that they should have a say in the administration. In a democratic set up the ultimate responsibility of running the administration is vested in the elected representatives of the people and the bureaucrats are answerable to the elected representatives. It is, therefore, desirable that a Legislative Assembly or Council of Ministers or both for the Union territory of Chandigarh be created in order to reflect the involvement of the people in running the administration.

Hence this Bill.

BILL NO. 12 OF 1997A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Forty-eighth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 1997.

Short title.

2. In article 220 of the Constitution, before the Explanation, the following proviso shall be inserted, namely:—

Amendment of article 220.

“Provided that a person shall be eligible to plead or act in a High Court in which he has held office as a permanent Judge if the term of his office as such Judge in that High Court does not exceed two years.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Article 220 of the Constitution of India provides that a person who has held office as a permanent Judge of a High Court cannot plead or act in that High Court. Under the policy of transfer of Judges of High Courts, which has been adopted recently, the Judges are being transferred from one High Court to another High Court. However, because of the existing provisions of article 220, they cannot practise in those High Courts where they had held office as a permanent Judge, even for a few days only. There is no such restriction in the case of additional Judges. They can practise in a High Court even if they had remained there for years together. The present provision of article 220, therefore, needs to be amended, particularly, in view of the recently introduced transfer policy of Judges of High Courts.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objective.

BILL NO. 11 OF 1997.

A Bill further to amend the Representation of the People Act, 1951.

Be it enacted by Parliament in the Forty-eighth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Representation of the People (Amendment) Act, 1997.

Short title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Amendment of section 101.

2. In section 101 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, the following proviso shall be added at the end, namely:—

"Provided that where the High Court orders a recounting of votes, the returned candidate, if he obtains the majority of the valid votes on such recounting, shall be declared to have been duly elected, notwithstanding whether or not he has filed a recrimination petition."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

It has been observed that in some cases the Supreme Court and various High Courts have declared certain candidates, not getting the majority of valid votes, elected on the ground that the returned candidates had not filed recrimination petition. The Courts held that in the absence of recrimination petition, the returned candidates cannot get benefit of valid votes polled in their favour. Thus, under the present law, the election of a person getting the highest number of votes is set aside and the person getting the lowest number of votes is being declared elected. There is a need to amend the Representation of the People Act, 1951 to remove this lacuna.

Hence this Bill.

Penalty for delay in furnishing declaration.

Penalty for false declaration.

Tribunal.

Penalty for possession of disproportionate assets.

Declaration to be public document.

Power to make rules.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

During recent years, a large number of financial scandals of very wide dimension have surfaced and revealed that several politicians holding high offices under the Government, many senior civil servants and businessmen have been amassing wealth unbelievably disproportionate to the known sources of their income. The situation is grave and poised to be disastrous not only to our economy but also to the democratic system itself unless effective steps are taken to check it.

While the general law of the land pertaining to economic offences appropriately deals with the businessmen, the Lok Pal Bill, recently introduced in the Lok Sabha, provides for declaration by members of Parliament of their assets and liabilities. There is, however, a need to enact a law to provide for declaration of assets and liabilities by the senior civil servants who exercise great power and influence while in service. It is also necessary to provide effective mechanism for scrutiny of such declarations.

Hence this Bill.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clauses 3 and 8 of the Bill seek to constitute a Committee of Parliament and a tribunal respectively for scrutinising declaration of assets filed by civil servants and for trying offences relatable to such declarations. The recurring expenditure estimated to be involved out of the Consolidated Fund of India on account of payment of salaries, TA and DA to the members of the tribunal and the Committee and the secretarial staff and to meet other miscellaneous expenditure would be approximately rupees twenty five lakh per annum.

A non-recurring expenditure of about rupees ten lakh is also likely to be involved on account of providing accommodation, office furniture and other facilities to the members of the Committee and the tribunal.

MEMORANDUM ON DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 11 of the Bill seeks to delegate rule making power to the Central Government for giving effect to the provisions of the Act. The delegation of power is of a normal Character.

7. The Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986 is hereby repealed.

61 of 1986.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

India has acceded to the Convention on the Rights of the Child which provides for—

- (a) a minimum age or minimum ages for admission to employment;
- (b) appropriate regulation of the hours and conditions of employment; and
- (c) appropriate penalties or other sanctions to ensure the effective enforcement of the declarations of the Convention.

The above Convention also recognised the right of the child to be protected from economic exploitation and from performing any work that is likely to be hazardous or to interfere with the child's education, or to be harmful to child's health, or his physical, mental, spiritual, moral or social development.

The Government of India signed the instrument of decisions arrived at the Convention on December 11, 1992.

The object of the Bill is to give effect to the declarations of the Convention on the Rights of the Child, to the extent possible in Indian context.

Hence this Bill.

BILL NO. 14 OF 1997

A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Forty-eighth year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 1997. Short title.

2. In article 73 of the Constitution, in clause (1), after the existing proviso, the following proviso shall be added, namely :—

"Provided further that the executive power referred to in sub-clause (b) in relation to any treaty or agreement shall not be exercisable by the Union unless it is ratified by both Houses of Parliament.".

Amendment of article 73.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Government enters into treaties or agreements with other country or countries from time to time. The nation is committed to the obligations arising out of such treaties without seeking approval from Parliament. They are implemented merely by issuing executive orders or by notifications, etc. The sovereign Parliament is not involved in decision making process in regard to advantages/disadvantages of the treaties entered into by the Government. The Parliament is presented with a fait accompli. This curbs the sovereign rights of the Parliament.

In major democratic countries, the treaties entered into by those countries are ratified by the concerned legislature before they are implemented. But there is no such provision in our Constitution. At present, the Constitution empowers the Parliament to make by law for giving effect to any treaty entered into by the Government without its ratification by the Parliament.

To protect, preserve and uphold the sovereignty of the Parliament, it is imperative that every international treaty be ratified by the Parliament.

The Bill seeks to amend the Constitution to achieve the above objective.

BILL NO. 19 OF 1997

A Bill further to amend the Registration of Books Act, 1867.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Forty-eighth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Press and Registration of Books (Amendment) Act, 1997.

Short title and Commencement.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. After section 3 of the Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"3A. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, no person, who is not a citizen of India, shall own, publish, print or edit nor in any way associate with the ownership, publishing printing or editing of any papers, newspaper or a book in India."

Insertion of new section 3A.
Ownership, publishing, etc. of newspapers and books by Indian citizens only.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

There is a move to allow the foreign media to have access to the Indian market within the framework of the new economic policy based on liberalisation, globalisation and marketisation.

This is a dangerous move and constitutes an invasion on the realm of freedom of speech and Indian culture. Entry of foreign newspapers and news agencies would have disastrous impact on the economic viability of the Indian newspapers and news agencies.

The Government, after taking into account all the aspects, formulated the media policy in 1955-56, which did not allow the foreign media owners to start publication of any newspaper and magazine in India. The Government now seeks to qualitatively change that policy.

The entry of foreign media would pose a serious danger to India's independence and sovereignty. It is well known that by and large the foreign press has been carrying on a relentless campaign over the past many decades to denigrate independent India and to belittle her achievements.

Though, the Indian Press is competent enough to stand up to the foreign media, huge financial resources and technological advancement would push Indian media out of business. The official view that we should make efforts to compete with the foreign media sounds hypocritical.

It is reported that 'The Financial Times', 'The Economist' of Pearson Group of London and 'Time' of US Warner Group are making frantic efforts to enter into Indian market. The Pearson Group is interested to enter into collaboration with the Ananda Bazar Group of publications and Time Warner Group are in negotiations with the 'India Today'. Time desires to bring out an Indian edition. International Herald Tribune is interested in collaborating with the Hinduja Group. Rupert Murdoch's, News Corporation is willing to start business in India.

The Press Council of India has already protested against the move.

The Bill seeks to ban the entry of foreign media into the country.

Hence this Bill.
